The Federal Union must be preserved. The Constitution must be maintained inviolate in all its parts. Every right guaranteed by it must be upheld, and every power given to the Government where legislation is necessary to its enjoyment. The judicial authorities, as present, and its decisions, implicitly obeyed and faithfully executed, will sustain the Constitution, and all unduly exercised suppression.—Stephen J. Douglass.

THE PLOT OF DESTINY.

WE are bound to extend and spread our dominion over the continent of North America, including the Atlantic Islands, and across the great oceans of the world, if we are to live up to our destiny. This country was founded for the welfare of the whole world, and taking shelter under the shadow of the great tree of liberty—deo patria mea, libertas tu mea.

LETTER FROM HON. GEORGE W. JOHNSON.

The Friends of Douglas send you a very strong and able letter from Hon. Geo. W. Jones, of this State, addressed to his friends and former constituents, and ask for your support. No man enjoys more the honor of his constituents' faith than does Mr. Jones. He is an exceptionally honest in politics as in all other relations of life, and his views and opinions always command the respect and confidence of the people.

THE PLOT THICKENS—FURTHER DETAILS.

The crisis of the Southern question has proved a fitful ordeal for the excesses of Democracy. It has been a fire upon the Blackwater, torporous while, in many instances, has made them wiser, and craved for a rest. But the Democratic party, in a feverish effort to outdo all others, has brought the watch-dogs of the South into their active defense.

The Washington Constitution, Mr. Buchanan's last effort, has been easily beaten, and secret triumph, and dashes into Judge Douglas' lap, hardly having had time to digest it.
